HERE COMES THE PARADE . . . Music filled the air in Campbell on Sunday when 18,000 spectators watched the 65th Annual Old Settlers' Day parade. Even Mother Nature smiled on the celebration and allowed the sun to peep from behind the rain soaked clouds while the parade took place. It rained before and it rained the next day, but for two hours the weather was ideal when the biggest parade in the history of Campbell was staged. Here are some of the units that helped make the parade so successful. Other pictures of the celebration will be found on pages 2, 4 and 7 of this issue. New Type of Zone

Something new in the local zoning picture is in store for this area.

Campbell City Planners took the first step Thursday night in the establishing of a controlled manufacturing zone for the industrial park at the southern city limits when they set June 6 for the public hearing on the ordinance setting ordinance setting up the zone. up the public hearing on het-

No attempt will be made by the Planners to establish the area in which the new zone will apply until after the change in the zoning ordinance has been made. Los Gatos is also taking steps to set up the same type zoning for the area that adjoins Campbell's industrial park.

The action by the Planners followed the report of a joint committee of the two cities made after a comprehensive study of the situation.

Post Office Plans Get OK from City Planners

Plans for the new Campbell post office received the blessing of the Planning Commission last Thursday night. But before the ok was given the Planners satisfied themselves that the traffic on the post office driveway would move one way only, i.e., in from First St. and out on Campbell Ave.

In approving the plans, including the entrance off First St., the City Planners went against the recommendation of the Traffic Engineer and other city officials who opposed any driveway across the sidewalk onto Campbell Ave.

This ingress and egress of traffic provided the main worry for the Planners during the discussion on the plans which were drafted by the U. S. Post Office Department and presented for approval by Henry Jewell and Oliver Jensen; owners of the old First Methodist Church at First St. and Campbell. The postal department holds a land option on the property.

In a two-page letter attached to the "comment sheet" that makes the rounds of the city officials as an aid to the Planners. Traffic Engineer Richard W. Morton opposed any driveway that crossed the sidewalk onto Campbell Ave. He maintained that it would create a traffic hazard and would endanger the safety of pedestrians. Only as a compromise, he felt that ingress from Campbell Ave. should be allowed.

A number of other city officals including Chief of Police Robert J. Locke agreed with Morton.

Both Jewell and Jensen pleaded with the Commissioners not to change the plans as presented which call for ingress from First Street. They said any change might "'throw" the postal officials and delay the project that much longer. They told the Planners that they were sure the post office only planned to have traffic move one way as was indicated by the arrows on the plans.

Commissioner Richard Salice said that he agreed with the post office plan for traffic flow rather than the traffic engineer's because he felt that it would be easier to enter the flow of traffic on Campbell Ave., rather than go against it which would be the case if entrance was from Campbell Ave.

Acting Postmaster Ellis Litynsky, who was present at the meeting, told the Commissioners that only two heavy trucks each day would enter and leave the post office on the driveway and that they would not create too much of a traffic problem.

The vote of approval was 6 to 1 with only Chairman Sam O'Brien opposing the action.

Missing Fence Causes Neighborhood Uproar

"The case of the missing fence" caused Campbell's City Council on Monday night to reluctantly direct City Attorney Joseph Bonacina to ascertain whether Nelson Bros. Trucking on Foote St. in Campbell is in violation of any city zoning ordinance.

The action came as a result of the charge brought by residents adjacent to the trucking company who claim that the firm has expanded in violation of the restrictions in the nonconforming use permit under which it has been operating. The trucking company was in existence before the city was incorporated but, the residents point out, that any expansion would be under city control even if the city had no jurisdiction on the original operation.

Spokesman for the irate residents, who claim that the noise and dirt raised by the trucking company at all hours of the nite and day is detrimental to the property owners, was Robert W. Harris, 400 Hawthorne Ave., Campbell.

The bone of contention, Harris maintained, was actuallly not so much the noise but rather the untidy yard kept by the trucking company upon which residents must gaze. There is no fence, he said, to hide this unsightly view from the neighbors.

It was this non-existent fence that apparently has created most of the bad feeling among the neighbors. Harris claimed that the trucking firm promised to put up a fence but has delayed doing so until it could obtain more land on which a driveway for the trucks could be built.

When the fence was not forthcoming as promised Harris felt that the City should enter the picture and investigate the possibility of whether the firm was operating strictly according to the ordinance as far as expansion was concerned.

City Attorney Bonacina explained that the City could not barter for a fence but would be forced to look into the matter because the question had been raised. He promised that the proper city officials would make the investigation and report.

Bu he was not optimistic about finding the missing fence.

Mayor John M. Chargin added that he had contacted both residents and the Nelson Bros and felt that something could be worked out to satisfy both parties. He mentioned that the ownership of the property in which the fence would go appeared to be one of the stumbling blocks.

Plenty of Shootin'

If there aren't enough fireworks to go around come the Fourth of July, it won't be because the City Council or the local merchants haven't done their part.

On Monday night the Council approved eight permits to sell fireworks between June 28 and July 4 within the confines of the city limits. And Fire Chief Jack Scott reported that two more were pending.

Those approved Monday by the Council, subject to the stringent regulations that are laid down by the state include: Lee Bros., Vince's Food Store, T &T Variety, Holmes Hobby, Laurel Variety and Toy, Sunshine Card and Toy, John Lauro (for St. Lucy's Dad's Club), Colla and Chappell.

Planners Reject Retail Nursery, But Approve Pet Hospital Here

City Planners ruled out a retail nursery to be located on Dell Ave. The okay was given, how- on Hamilton Ave. near the Los Gateos Creek at hteir meeting last Thursday.

The Planners also pre-viewed the plans presented by R. L. Townsend for a proposed warehouse building to be constructed on Dell Ave. but postponed any decision on the matter until the section is officially in the city. The annexation of the parcel will become final early next month and the commission will probably act on it at the June 20 meeting.

New Street Needed

Townsend also told the Commission of the plans for cutting through a proposed street from Camden Ave. to Winchester Road bisecting the industrial park. He explained that the property owners involved were interested in the street because they are "landlocked" now. A railroad crossing also would be needed he said.

The proposed street, he pointed out, would facilitate fire protection for the area and would also provide access to the industrial park. The property owners are forming an improvement district to obtain the facilities and they hoped to gain the support of the City, he added.

The application of Inazo Noda for a retail nursery was denied because it was felt that it was a poor location for such an operation while the Commissioners approved the application of Dr. Patrick Baymiller for a veterinary hospital on Hamilton Ave. The oka was given, however, subject to strict regulations as to the traffic problems involved. The Planners were concerned over the access road off Hamilton Ave.

Other Actions

In other actions, the Commission:

(1) Approved the application of William King for a 14-unit apartment at Central and Harrison avenues.

(2) Voted to change the meeting dates of the Commission from Thursday to Tuesday evenings because it would speed up the processing of zoning matters. The change would benefit the general public, it was explained. It would allow public hearings to take place sooner than at present through the publication of legal notices in the same week as they would be set by the Commission.

Council Okays Three Zone Changes Including Sunberry Drive Requests

Three zone change requests (one the celebrated and controversial Sunberry Drive application) on Monday got by the first of two readings necessary before the required ordinances can be adopted. The second reading will be given at the next meeting of the City Council on June 3.

One of the zone-change requests was that of Philip Sondeno for lots on Sunberry Drive, at Kamson Way. Residents of the street had objected strenuously to the original application but during the weeks that the request has been before the City a proposal satisfactory to both parties had been worked out.

Sondeno publicly promised (and indicated he would sign such a statement for the benefit of the residents) that only one-story multiple dwellings would be built on the lots. It was explained that the city could not restrict the building to one-story in granting the zone change.

A delegation of residents from Sunberry Drive, who have conscientiously attended every meeting of the Planning Commission and City Council since the matter was orginally presented, was also present Monday night. Their spokesmen, Mrs. W. P. Mertsching and Richard Lee, said that they believed Sondeno was a man of his word and they would not do anything to delay the matter further. They said that they felt the cul-de-sac and the closing of Sunberry Drive from Hamilton accomplished what they had in mind.

The Council also approved the change of zone request of Joe Dahl for property extending from Winchester Road and on Dunster Way. This matter had been indirectly affected by the Sunberry Drive squabble and had been held up until that was settled. Originally S. Prestigiacomo had jointly applied for a zone change with Dahl but subsequently withdrew his property from the application.

Property owned by Councilman Charles Rose at Latimer and Winchester Road was okayed for a zone change. Councilman Rose, before the request was taken up, disqualified himself. Fred Marberg, architect, as a supplementary report to the request, presented the tentative plans for the commercial and professional buildings that are planned for the location.

Approval also was given the request of Cosmo Perrotta for a zone change from residential to commercial on Winchester Road across from Lee Bros. market.

Two annexation ordinances were adopted by the Council as were two other zone change ordinances. One of the annexations was for the area in which the local Legion post has purchased a site for a clubhouse. The Legion had raised a legal point about the annexation but City Attorney Joseph Bonacina ruled that everything was in order.

The last of the zone changes given the final okay was for the old Campbell Hatchery owned by Bert L. Burda on Mission Way. A similar request had previously been turned down.

POSTPONES MEETINGS

Regular Board meeting of the Campbell elementary school district has been postponed until next Tuesday, May 28. At that time the preliminary budget will be presented to the Board and bids for Blackford School will be opened.

Setback Problem Again Comes Before Council

That old question of how deep a setback should be allowed when streets are widened in the City of Campbell was raised again Monday night at the City Council meeting.

The Council was scheduled to give first reading to the amendment to an ordinance that would permit 15-foot setbacks on streets where plan lines have already been set. The Councilmen deferred the problem to the next meeting because the city attornew city engineer and planning consultant wished more time to study on the problem.

Public Hearing Held

The Council, however, held the public hearing on the matter which cuts off further discussion from the floor.

During the hearing, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons, 400 N. Winchester Road, who have long protested any lessening of the present 25-foot setback, told the Councilmen the new setback rule discriminated against property owners on the street and that the City Fathers apparently did not appreciate the property owners' problems.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Simmons spoke at the meeting. Mrs. Simmons said that Campbell was beautiful when they moved here and they didn't want it to change and become like San Francisco with small front yards. She said the short setback would force them to park on the sidewalk and also that theey would lose their circular driveway which cuts down the traffic problem on the street.

They both felt that the City should guarantee them a 25-foot setback and move their house to that distance. This extra expense for the City was called for, she said. (Councilman Richard Morton interjected the remark that this was the first time the City had been asked not to worry over spending taxpayers money).

The Councilmen showed resentment over the charge by the Simmons that they didn't appreciate the inconvenience that a shorter setback would cause the property owner.

Councilman Charles Rose, a resident of Hamilton Ave., pointed out that since the widening of Hamilton he has only a 10-foot front yard and, in addition, he has a power pole right smack dab in his front yard.

Other Actions

In less controversial actions, the Council:

(1) Granted permits to move three houses on Hamilton Ave., (420, 432 and 436) to John Bothelo.

(2) Deferred the request of the school district for crossing guards for the Cherry Lane School at Milton and Rincon avenues to their budget sessions.

(3) Granted permission of I. B. Exiline at First and Grant streets to remove trees.

(4) Paid the Congregational Church of Campbell $21,000 as final payment on the city hall.

(5) Passed a resolution making it possible to use reserve funds up to $50,000 to purchase short-term interest bearing treasury bonds.

(6) Accepted the lease from the County for use of the City Hall as a court room one day each week at a cost of $65 per month.

Dancing at St. Lucy's Hall, Winchester Road and Kennedy Avenue will begin about 8:30 on Saturday evening. It will be one of the many attractions at this year's affair which will be climaxed with the traditional barbecue Sunday with the main prize to be awarded at 4 p.m.

Saturday will be "kids day" with pony rides among the many attractions.

RAIN DROPS

Hitting both sides of Old Settlers Day but holding off for the parade, the rain storm that started last Friday and picked up after Sunday's recess brought a total of .67 inches to Campbell making the season's total to 12.30 inches. Normal to date is 14 inches but last year at this time 21.25 inches had taken which turneed out to be the ital for turned out to be the total for June 30.

Rotary Told Farm Taxes Too High

M. S. Beckley, U. S. Department of Agriculture farm adviser, told Rotary members Monday farm taxes are too high and he believes land should be taxed on its ability to produce, not on a basis of possible land value.

Speaking on "Agriculture in the Urban Area", Beckley said although a great many acres have been given over to new subdivision, cherry and berry acreage is on the increase in the county while prune and apricot acreage is decreasing. In spite of this decline, Beckley said, farm income is considerably higher.

California's 1956 wheat crop had an estimated value of $16,506,000.

San Jose Opera Company to Stage Musical Comedy

"Brigadoon", acclaimed as one of the best musical comedies of stage history, will be presented by the San Jose Light Opera Company at the University of Santa Clara Theatre Friday, May 31, and Saturday, June 1.

"Brigadoon" tells in story music and dance the tale of two Americans, one romantic the other sarcastic, who wander by chance into a Scottish Highlands village called Brigadoon on the one day each century the phantom community comes to life.

It is the day of a fair and the day of a wedding. The romantic Yank meets a beautiful lassie with whom he falls in love and the sarcastic Yank is pursued by an impudent and amorous siren. The exciting events that follow and their aftermath provide some of the most poignantly lovely scenes of the American stage.

Singing the leading roles of the American who stumbles upon the ghostly village and the enchanted girl he meets there will be Allan Praefke and Nancy Rembert. Pat Garvey has been assigned the role of the Yankee's bluff companion and Jacqueline Wood will play a Scottish girl who believes in getting her man by going after him.

The production is staged and directed by F. Nicklai Lickwar with Dr. Chester Mason as musical director.

Goodwill Calls For Lonely Dolls

Calling all dolls, large and small, that have been packed away and grown lonely for a new "mother". Goodwill Industries is rounding up dolls for its annual doll dressing project which will culminate in November with a public doll display and tea.

The dolls need not be in the best of condition, for the Goodwill "doll hospital" will fix them up with new arms, legs, wigs and even new heads. After they are reconditioned they will be distributed in early autumn for dressing by volunteer women.

Last year some 1200 dolls were dressed for Goodwill and this year the total is expected to exceed 1500. Prize ribbons are awarded for the best dressed dolls.

Heading the doll recruitment is Mrs. Edward H. Ryan of Old Orchard Road, Campbell. She is being assisted by Mrs. James Linane of Cambrian Park, Mrs. Eugen Andres of Campbell High School, and Mrs. William Asher of San Jose.

Persons willing to contribute dolls to this project are asked to phone Goodwill Industries, CY 5-3815, or Mrs. Ryan at her residence, FR 8-2750.

Franham was president of the Cambrian Men's Club and served 15 years with the school's scout troop. While on the Board of Trustees, the sixth grade camping project was started.

Be Sure Your Car is Running Right

Be sure your car is in safe mechanical condition, warns the California Highway Patrol. There were 5,200 vehicles involved in fatal and injury traffic accidents in 1956 found to have been defective prior to the collisions.

"It is evident proper maintenance is a necessary adjunct to safe driving," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Defective brakes led the list of defects with tire defects second in frequency.

Practically all traffic accidents caused by vehicle defect could be prevented," Caldwell continued. "Checking by qualified mechanics, adequate adjustments and repairs when necessary will help keep your car in safe mechanical condition."

Caldwell listed the following key points for special attention when checking your car:

1. Hand and foot brakes working properly and evenly.
2. Headlamps legally adjusted to provide maximum lighting under all load conditions.
3. Tires checked for excessive wear and wheels properly aligned.
4. Tail light, stop light and turn indicators all working.
5. Steering mechanism correctly adjusted and wheels lubricated.

"But remember, the best equipment is of little value without good driving," Caldwell concluded.

LAW IN ACTION

BEFORE THE TRIAL

About one hundred years ago Charles Dickens' Bleak House attacked English courts for their red tape.

Since then English and American law have hacked out costly red-tape—and are still at it—so that, compared with Dickens' courts, ours have simple rules.

One result is that much work of a lawsuit goes on before it comes to trial.

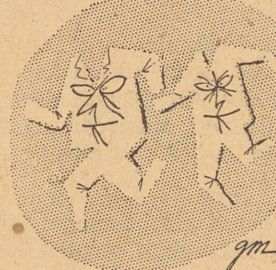
When you sue to enforce your rights you file a "complaint" (your suit begins here) and the sheriff or someone else serves a summons on your opponent. Until then, the defendant does not have to come to court. Afterwards, if he fails to act, you win by "default."

The complaint, answer and other court papers are "pleadings." They bring out and narrow down the real issues of the case—the questions the court must settle.

The defendant may "answer" or in other ways defend himself.

He may "demur"—question the complaint's legal grounds. Should the judge uphold the demurrer you must give up your suit or amend your complaint to make out a legal case.

The defendant's answer may deny some or all of the facts alleged, or bring in "new matter" to avoid the legal effects of your lawsuit.



In California, the law seeks to save court time (and sometimes spur out-of-court settlements) by pre-trial conferences: A judge and the two lawyers sit down and try to agree to reduce the facts and issues to come up in court.

Once you have taken these preliminary steps, the issues are stated and the trial may begin.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

Expenditures for home consumption of coffee during 1956 totaled $1.6 billion.

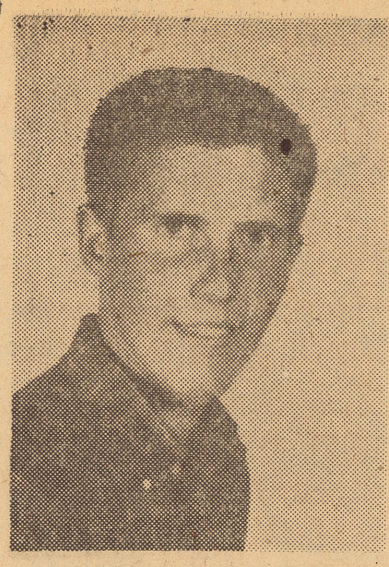
Graduates of '07 Impressed With School Growth

Campbell High School graduates of '07 were greatly impressed with the tremendous growth of the school and district when taken on a tour of the plant Saturday by Principal Samuel P. Reed and district superintendent Laurance J. Hill.

Prior to the tour, ten of the twenty-one graduates of fifty years ago met for luncheon at The Virginian and reminisced about former friends and events. They were brought up-to-date on all facets of the school curriculum by Reed and told of future new schools and district growth by Hill.

Attending the reunion were Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Bell of Pebble Beach; Mrs. Beth Bucknall White of Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hayes; Mrs. Ethel Hills Williams and husband; Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn S. Keesling of Campbell; Mrs. Agnes Macy Piper and husband of Menlo Park; Mrs. Lela Oliver Peppard of Santa Cruz; Mrs. Emily Pannell Brandenberg of Capitola; Mrs. Zena Kennedy Spaulding of Huntington Park; and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Smith of Campbell.

Guests were Mrs. Calvin Bohnett, Mr. and Mrs. Laurance Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reed.



AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP . . . Donald Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, 811 S.J.-L.G. Road, has been awarded a scholarship to a college of his choice and a job opportunity as a result of a Civil Service test for seniors operated under the civilian Navy program. He plans to attend Stanford University and serve as engineering aid at the U.S. Radiological Defense Laboratory at Hunter's Point while attending college and during summer months.

Council Opposes Freeway Route "A" -- Not Sure of "B"

Just because the City of Campbell is opposed to the so-called "Route A" of the proposed Junipero Serra Freeway, it does not necessarily follow that the City favors "Route B".

This was indicated Monday night when the City Council went on record opposed to the northern routes of the freeway through the county because of its adverse effect on the local school sites and that it virtually splits the town.

Councilman Richard W. Morton, however, said that he wasn't convinced that "Route B" was the best plan and that he had heard of other routes he felt that would be more satisfactory although the State has not presented any other plans.

The State recently unveiled the two plans and is now preparing to defend them at public hearings. State officials have asked for official opinions as to which route is favored. A number of cities have already voiced objections to "Route A". Campbell lies in beween the two while Los Altos claims to be adversely affected by either one.

The Council's action on Monday while opposing "Route A", leaves the way open should a better plan than "Route B" be found. The Planning Commission previously had recommended that "Route B" be approved in preference to "Route A".

When You Finish, Turning, Turn Off That Turn-Signal

Make sure the turn signals on your car are off when you are not going to turn, warns the California Highway Patrol.

"Approved turn signals may be used to indicate you are about to make a left or right turn in traffic," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Use them properly, but make sure they are turned off after the turn is made.

Recently a quite serious accident occurred when a driver failed to make a turn at an intersection after displaying a lighted turn signal for some distance prior to entering the intersection," Caldwell stated. "An oncoming driver, also with turn signal lit, figuring the other car was going to turn, made a left turn in front of the oncoming car.

Modern traffic demands close adherence to the rules and the proper use of safety devices on your motor vehicle," he concluded. "Turn signals are safety aids when properly used; they can be accident causing devices when used improperly."

Former Campbell Resident Revisits Paris Then Goes to Zurich by Car

Editor's Note: The Campbell Press is fortunate in having a "foreign correspondent" who sends periodical reports describing interesting spots in Europe that have been visited. Miss Virginia Grattan, a former Campbell High and San Jose State student, has been employed in Europe since 1955.

In the following report she describes entertainingly a revisit to Paris and Zurich. —G.V.

By Virginia Grattan

The first trip in '57 was back to Paris. It was especially fun because my cousin is teaching there, and on the weekend he was able to show me around the city.

Bill picked me up at the hotel and we drove around the city in his Volkswagen. It is hazardous enough walking around Paris, and staying alive, but driving is suicide. At the Palace Vendome traffic flows in from every direction at break-neck-speed, and resembles so many bumper-cars at a carnival We zipped in around without skinning a fender. Luck was with us.

We left the car here and visited the Orangerie which had a special showing of paintings by a lesser known French Impressionist. Then we walked up to Louvre where Bill pointed out a collection of modern painters I had missed previously. In a small out of the way gallery hung the many familiar works of Van Gogh, Gaugoin, Toulouse-Lautrec, Sisley, Degas, Manet, Cezanne, Renoir and Pissarro. It is always incredible to come face to face with a painting you have often seen reproductions of.

Dinner In Montmartre

In the evening we had dinner at a Greek restaurant in Montmartre. Afterwards we went to the Theatre de Paris and saw Ingrid Bergman in the French version of the American play "Tea and Sympathy". After the play we watched Miss Bergman leave the theater, speaking to her admirers in French and to her two body guards in Italian. It is even more incredible seeing for the first time someone you have heard about most of your life.

Late Sunday morning we breakfasted with some friends of my cousin's in an aristocratic penthouse appartment whose spacious windows overlook the city. The "hi-fi" played "I Love Paris", and our little group of Americans ate waffles and talked about good times in Europe.

The breakfast broke up about four in the afternoon. My cousin drove me out through the beauiful woods of the Bois de Boulogne, where people were strolling or riding horseback. We had coffee in a cafe on the champs-Elysees later and went to see the movie "War and Peace" which was showing in English. After three hours of 18th century Russia in triumph and tragedy, we emerged worn but wiser on a street in 20th century Paris. Then, after "food for soul" — food for hunger.

We had dinner in a small, crowded restaurant on the left bank — plenty of atmosphere. Then we went to a tiny, dimly lit cabaret and listened to some French and English ballads by two folk singers. The French have an interesting way of applauding in such quiet, intimate places. They snap their fingers. It makes a delightful effect. Our ballad singers sang everything from "John Henry" to some traditional French folk songs, and we listened unil it was late and we could hardly keep our eyes open.

VIRGINIA GRATTAN

The next morning I got up early and went for a brisk walk across the Pont Royal to the Louvre and back. It was a bleak day and a cold wind was blowing. The Seine was nearly as grey as the sky. The book stalls on the Seine had not yet opened for business. All Paris seemed to be sleeping in the earily morning. I went back to the hotel and had breakfast, then took a taxi to the train station and caught the morning train back to Frankfurt.

Visit To Zurich

Toward the end of January my room mate, Bernadine, and I purchased a Volkswagen. For the "Volks" maiden voyage we drove to Zurich about 260 miles away. There is somehing of a nack to driving a "Volks". We had driven it around Frankfurt—one of us driving and the other flicking the signals and hollering instructions—but we felt Zurich would be a real test. It was.

We set off Friday night in the rainy darkness. Near Mannheim the car began slipping hazardously from side to side on the highway. We looked for a garage and when we pulled in a swarm or attendants flocked around the car. They were all looking at our rear wheel. When I stuck my head out of the window I noticed with alarm that our little back tire was flat and smoking hot. This turned out to be an expensive driving lesson. But within an hour we were back on the highway, feeling a little unhappy at the loss of face and money. We continued on to Baden-Baden where we stayed the night.

Baden-Baden is a very fashionable, little spa, complete with Casino, Kurhaus and mineral baths which are guaranteed to cure what ails you. It has tiny shops which sell fashions by Doir and other Paris designers to those who can afford such things. It has open air concerts in the summers and side-walk cafes. It even has an old castle on the hill.

It was raining again the next morning so we scurried off to Zurich. We were sure the sun would be shinning there. Shortly after we left Basel the sun came out and never left us during our stay in Switzerland.

Like Geneva and Lucerne, Zurich is situated on a lake. Althrough it is the largest city in Switzerland (400,000) it is located on only the sixth largest lake. It is an industrial city and the center of the silk, cotton and machine-making industry. The city is bright and clean, and predominately German speaking, although English is widely understood.

We got to Zurich Saturday morning. We found a hotel and then went shopping on world-famous Bahnhofstrasse, We then made two "monumental' purchases — some chocolates and some pepermint tea. Then, by accident, we wandered into a very fashionable cafe where a gentleman in tails was entertaining with piano music. We had lunch—a tiny sandwich and a demi-tasse of coffee.

Volks Out Of Gas

In the afternoon we took a drive along the edge of the lake. As we started back the lights began to come on all along the lake, and we could see the lights of Zurich across the water. We dragged back to the hotel and fell asleep from weariness.

About nine we decided to have dinner and drove out of Zurich to a small village on the edge of the lake. On the way the Volks ran out of gas. Fortunately we had an extra can of gas, and a station nearby loaned us a funnel, and a nice man on a bicycle stopped to help us pour. So, once again, we sputtered off into the darkness towards Kussnacht.

By the time we got to Kussnacht we had nearly given up hope of having dinner. But once we were shown into the beautiful Erimitage restaurant on the edge of lake Zurich, we were glad that we had come. The hospitality, atmosphere and wonderful food were certainly worth the drive. We had a beautiful dinner with candle light and music overlooking the lake.

As we drove back to Zurich Berne mentioned that there was a beautiful view of the city from the Zoo which was on a hill. We were feeling giddy and decided to stop and ask someone where the Zoo was It was after midnight and everyone we asked woud just stare and then shake their head and walk off. Then we came to an intersection where two young men were tight-rope walking down the white line. They seemed to be in good spirits so we asked in broken German, "Vo is der Zoo?" They came back, "le Zoo, le Zoo" (French So I said, "Ou est le zoo" in broken French? Then we were lost in a barrage of tight-rope walking.

Sunday, before we left, we did find the Zoo, and enjoyed a breath-taking view of Zurich, the lake, and a range of snow-capped peaks beyond.

Campbell Baseballers End SCVAL League Play in Fourth Position

By Richard Ferguson

Placing fourth in SCVAL league play the Campbell varsity baseballers finished farther up the ladder than had been anticipated. With a 6-3 record the Bucs were close on the heels of Washington and Los Gatos who ended in a second place tie at 7-2. James Lick won with a 8-1 record.

Against Lick the Bucs were sorely defeated 9-3 in their first league game. Benny Lujan pounded out two hits in four trips to the plate to provide the punch for the Bucs in that encounter.

Campbell barely skimmed past Mountain View 8-7 on the winner's home diamond for their first win. Mt. View was picked by many as the preseason favorites but the Bucs started them on the long road down the ladder. Dave LaBarbera punched out two triples and a single to provide the Bucs scoring power and also led the league in hitting at this point.

Camden went down scrapping 5-3 with Jim Corbus collecting a home run and a single in two trips to home base to baffle Campbell's little brother team.

Fremont went down in defeat 6-4 as the Bucs extended their winning string to three games. Gene Bowen proved the hitting ace as he belted a triple and a single in two trips to the plate with team mate Don Kitajima collecting two singles.

Washington continued its march to second spot by climbing over the Bucs 9-5. Hector Cordova blasted out two singles for the losers as he finally found the range after an early season slump.

Second place Los Gatos suffered one of their most humiliating defeats of the season when the Bucs dumped the 'Cats 12-5 for one of their two defeats. Roger Almquist, Hector Cordova and Tony Ochoa sparkled as the big Campbell guns with Almquist collecting three singles in four trips to the plate with Cordova getting two and Ochoa two.

Los Altos came up from the bottom of the league to dump the Bucs 7-5 winning their only game of the season.

Tony Ochoa was the only Buc to collect extra bases on a hit for the Bucs pounding out a double.

Campbell walloped Sunnyvale 8-0 for the only shut-out of the season for the Bucs with Dave LaBarbera showing the batters how its done by pounding out three singles and a double for a perfect day at the plate.

Jim Corbus knocked the long ball for the Bucs as they ended the season by defeating the Santa Clara Panthers 6-4.

Mac's Market won 4-1 from Healey Motors, behind the pitching of Don Kliest who hurled a 2-hitter and struck out 8. Leading hitter was Ted Caldwell with a homerun which drove in 2 runs. Marv Howell of Mac's got two for three. Losing pitcher was Brown.

St. John's turned back Sisemore Construction 6-2. The winning pitcher was Olivarri and the loser Calabray. Escobar and Casazza of St. John's led the hitting parade while Grassle of Sisemore connected for a homer.

In the final game, Towne Pride turned back Western Gravel 8-1. Smith, TP pitcher, got credit for the win allowing only three hits while H. Logan was the losing pitcher. Spellman, with a homer and single, driving in three runs, led the hitters while Hindley, Smith and Lico of Towne Pride banged out two hits each.

Golfers Place Second In SCVAL First Round

Campbell's golf foursome of Ron Rowe, Grant Burton, Terre Wilson, and Harvey Alford placed second to James Lick in the first round of the SCVAL golf finals at the San Jose golf club Monday afternoon.

Terre Wilson and Ron Rowe shot the day's second lowest scores by posting a 78 for the 18 hole round. The team total of 323 was five points behind the leaders at 318 and 17 points ahead of third place Los Altos.

Harvey Alford finished the 18 holes with a fine total of 79 with Grant Burton posting an 88.

The second round of play will be run off on the La Rinconada greens next Monday afternoon with the final round being played at the Almaden course June 3.

Forty-two and one-half million acres of California's 101 million total is forest land.

Camden, Campbell Win Points in NCS Meet

Camden High scored 7¾ points and Campbell High 5 in the North Coast II track and field championship held in Los Gatos Friday night when the first five finishers in each event qualified for the finals in Berkeley this weekend.

Although Mike Profit, star Campbell weightman, was unable to compete because of injuries he was awarded fifth place in the shot put and will probably compete in the finals. He placed fourth in the state meet last year.

Campbell's fast stepping relay team came in second to Capuchino while Ramos of Camden took second in the 100-yard dash and Gold of Camden tied for first in the high jump.

Doctors Say Okay

Herb Score's eye is going to be all right. They say that his vision will not be impaired.

His valuable left hand will be of great help when he can return to his hard throwing strike-out tactics.

Detroit Stymies New York

Detroit whipped the Yanks (4-1) and (2-1) Friday and Saturday. In the first game Billy Hoeft celebrated his 25th birthday by beating the Yanks. Maxwell, Tuttle, and Kalina all hit homers. In the second game Foytack and Aber teamed up to stop the Yanks with only one run. Frank House hit a homer for Detroit. He was hit in the neck with Mantle's bat in the seventh inning.

Kucks and Larson lost for the Yanks.

Hard-Tops

Rain and inclement weather cancelled both races.

Since the loss of their Ace Herb Score Cleveland has been burning up the league to move into second place behind Chicago.

S. F. Seals

The San Francisco Seals have been doing real well against the high ranking Angels. They took two games Sunday from Los Angeles with good help from pinch-hitter Sal Taormino.

Jim Small

Outfielder, Detroit Tigers
(local player)

Jim received a $35,000 bouns to sign with the Tigers in '55. Last season he began to pay dividends on the Detroit investment. Jim was one of the most dependable pinch hitters in baseball posting a .500 mark—7 hits for 14 at bat. One of the young speedsters, he can pour on the "gas" to take an extra base and uses his fleetfootedness to get a jump on fly balls in the outfield. Detroit feels Jim will be a fine Major Leaguer.

Hector scored more runs than any other Athletic in '56. He also led his mates in doubles and placed second in Home Runs. A real hustler, Hec was also called on to play 20 games in the outfield. After breaking in in 1951, Hec led the Provencial League in Runs in '52 and the following year topped the Eastern League in Fielding.

Johnny is one of the finest all-round second basemen in baseball. He is a dangerous hitter and his ability to get clutch hits is respected by every hurler in the Loop. Playing his first All-Star Game last July he collected 2 hits, drove in a run and was pivot man in the only double play of the game. Johnny started baseball in '48 at Ogden with a .400 avg.

TRAIN AND CAR MEET IN TOWN . . . Mary L. Everett, 163 San Tomas Road, last week drove into the locomotive of the commuter train just as it was going across the crossing on Campbell Ave., right in the heart of town. She was only slightly injured, although her car was badly smashed. She is shown lying on the front seat just after the crash in one photo, and in the other Sgt. Bucs End Season With 6-4 Victory

Campbell's 1957 baseball team ended the league season last Friday afternoon on a winning note by defeating the Santa Clara Panthers 6-4 on the losers' diamond. Campbell finished the season with a 6-3 record.

Dave LaBarbera collected one hit in two official trips to the plate to end the season in the third spot in SCVAL batting averages at .520 and lead his team mates percentage wise.

The Bucs broke into the scoring column in the third inning with Ben Lujan bringing across Jim Keech who had just been given the free trip to first by slamming a triple into center field. Dave LaBarbera tallied an RBI driving in Lujan with a single off starter Ken Hays of Santa Clara.

Jim Corbus pounded out a double in his three up-three hit barrage for the game and scored on a sneak play to count the only Buc tally in the fourth inning.

Santa Clara scored all their four runs in the bottom of the fourth with star athlete Bob Lister knocking out a bases loaded triple to collect three RBI's and score himself on a sacrifice.

Tony Ochoa of the Bucs stretched a single to third base on some quick steals and scored the Bucs lone run and tie the score at 4-4 in the top of the fifth inning.

Jim Corbus in the sixth slammed out a home run to put the Bucs ahead by one tally. The sixth Buc run was helped by an error on the third baseman on which John Kriewall added the score.

Starting pitcher Jim Keech fanned the Panthers in the seventh inning to preserve the Bucs sixth league victory.

Chamber of Commerce Is Broke!

The Chamber of Commerce is broke.

This will not come as any shock to those who have been struggling to keep this necessary community organization operating. But apparently there are too many who are unaware that the Chamber of Commerce has to have funds in order to keep going.

It is basic that without the funds forthcoming there can be no Chamber of Commerce.

It seems incredible that so many business people of the community fail to recognize the value of an active Chamber of Commerce. Not only do they fail to recognize it, but they fail to support it in the one way that is necessary, to-wit: by paying their dues.

Without this financial support the Chamber of Commerce is doomed.

And that's the way it is, folks.

We are convinced of the need of an active Chamber and there are a number of others (about 70 out of a potential 300) but there are not enough of us around to continue carrying the load and to give a free ride to those who will benefit but will not help themselves.

A general meeting of all members of the Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for June 4 in the City Hall. It is hoped that all those who realize the value of a Chamber and have or have not paid their dues will attend.

The meeting could turn into a wake, but there is hope that enough interest will be shown so that a spark of life will be breathed into the body in order to keep it functioning.

Miracles have happened.

What IS "Controlled Manufacturing"?

Under study now by the City of Campbell and the Town of Los Gatos is a new type of zoning. Both cities have taken the necessary steps, i.e. setting the date for public hearing to adopt this new zoning, classified as CONTROLLED MANUFACTURING. (CM)

A comprehensive report of this zoining with its restrictions and the area in which it would operate, has been made by a joint committee of industrial standards comprised of two members of the Planning Commission of each city under the direction of Nestor Barrett, who is planning consultant for both cities.

Representing Campbell on the committee were Homer Hyde and James Tomlinson. A great deal of research went into the report which was presented at a joint meeting of the city officals of both cities last week.

In addition to the verbal presentation made by the committee, visual aids were used to describe some of the more technical restrictions. such as the noise factor involved and the size of each parcel.

The report was contained in a 40-page booklet and beyond any doubt is one of the most complete surveys on the subject that has ever been conducted locally. The committee has recommended that adoption of the standards set forth in the report through ordinances to be enacted by both cities.

The entire purpose of the operation is to establish land use controls and a circulation pattern which will result in an optimum development of light industrial functions without disturbance to the residential character of the area.

We are heartily in accord with the purpose as outlined and we commend the joint committee and the planning consultant for their work.

We are convinced that such restrictive zoning is absolutely essential in the future overall pattern for the two communities.

We feel certain, also, that every clear-thinking person who studies the situation will come to the same conclusion.

There may be some question as to the proper area in which these restrictions as outlined in their report should be applied.

However, (and this IS important) the first legal step is to put the restrictions into law which is done through amending the present ordinances of the two cities.

The WHERE it goes comes with the second step.

It must be clearly understood that the amended zoning ordinance in no way specifies the area.

Thus we feel that even those who will oppose the restrictions for their own parcels of land will agree that having a Controlled Manufacturing Zone for the community is "Good Planning".

We know there will be opposition when the city officials begin to pinpoint the sections that are to have this new type zoning. But that will come later.

We feel confident that all sides will have an opportunity to air their views.

There is no reason why an equitable arrangement can not be worked out that will satisfy all parties concerned.

But let's take first things first.

OUT on the LIMB

Another Old Settlers Day celebration has now become history.

Despite adverse weather conditions and the countless other problems, major and minor, that confronted those in charge, more people watched the biggest parade in local history and the 65th annual event can be rated as an outstanding success.

There are always "bugs" in the operation of such an event that never seem to be eradicated, although each year lessons are learned that prove invaluable for the future.

When one "bug" is eliminated there always seems to be other "bugs" crop up to take its place. So it goes.

—o—

Personally we thought the parade especially was terrific. But, of course, we are prejudiced and we always have liked parades.

—o—

We took a whole slew of pictures, some came out well and some didn't.

But that is to be expected.

—o—

Near tragedy, as far as we were concerned, was barely averted just as the fifth division prepared to pass the reviewing stand where we were stationed.

We had carefully protected our camera all through the day, warding off the milling crowd, horses, bands and stuff like that.

We had also rationed our film so that we wouldn't be caught short. (During the entire celebration, incidentally, you might be interested to know that we personally took 34 pictures of one kind or another)

We put down our camera in what we thought was a protected spot. But it turned out that we were wrong about that.

Then it happened. One man in a group gathered at the stand started to back up. Before we could pull our camera out of the way his foot had come down right on top of it.

Ironically the man who put his foot in it was none other than the guy who had carried the biggest load of the celebration on his shoulders, Sam Cava.

Fortunately for our nerves (and camera) no permanent harm was done but by the time we were in a position to do more shooting, the parade was finished.

Lester Lafferty, former publisher of The Press, happened to be around with his camera and we are grateful to him for shooting a few for us in the last division. Otherwise we would have drawn a blank.

—o—

Sam really did a tremendous job in organizing the parade. Despite the few rough spots, due to circumstances beyond anyone's control, everything went off on schedule. Sam was needed everywhere at once and he managed somehow to be there. Except once.

He had the only key available to the Chamber of Commerce office when it was necessary to get into the office in a hurry. When Sam couldn't be found, Neal Royer, general chairman, in desperation took matters into his own hands and went through a window at the office.

He was right in the act of committing his break-in when he was noticed by the Campbell police (who incidentally did an excellent job in keeping matters under control throughout the day).

The police in this case didn't do anything about stopping Neal, who incidentally is assistant superintendent of schools and president-elect of the Rotary Club, from completing his second- story job.

—o—

One of the pictures we missed and had to take later when our camera was once more functioning was the Chinese Girls Drum Corps. We hurried over to where the little gals were loading their bus to shoot 'em after the parade was over.

After all, we were responsible for bringing them here so we just HAD to get a picture.

Those of you who saw the gals will agree, we are sure, that they are tops and help any parade a great deal. The Press underwrote the cost of bringing them here (bus fare and meals) and we have no regrets on that score.

We received $25 from others who felt the same as we did and these contributions were greatly appreciated.

—o—

We mentioned before that Steven, Cathy and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Story contributed $12, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Moore, $5. During the last week, Mrs. Fred Smith brought in $3 and Mayor John M. Chargin gave us a check for $5.

Thanks, folks, it was mighty nice of you to give us a hand.

—o—

Gordon Rooney of the Campbell police claims he will continue to hound us until we mention that at the recent train-car wreck in Campbell, only a block away from our office, Keith Butterman, printer in our back shop, tore over to the wreck without first checking to see whether we and our camera knew about it.

We always give Gordon a bad time when something happens and he doesn't tell us so he isn't about to let us forget what Keith supposedly did.

But in all fairness to Keith we must admit that Norm Sebert, his fellow worker, called to us before he, too, took off for the wreck and Keith knew that.

O. K., Rooney, you can get off our back now.

—o—

This last paragraph is simply to satisfy our wife.

Our lights were off at our house early Sunday morning, May 12 and Dorothy hunted all through The Press last issue to see why. She couldn't find any mention of the incident and took us to task for not being on our toes as a newspaperman.

For the record: at 2:58 a.m. on May 12 a car struck a power pole on Harriet Ave., which caused the power to be cut off

O.K. now, Honey?

No School May 30

There will be no school on Memorial Day next Thursday, May 30, for grammar school students or high school students, Superintendents William Henley and Laurance Hill announced today.

Henley said all grammar school students will report back to classes on Friday as usual.

For the high school set it's a two day holiday; there will be no school Thursday or Friday.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

The recent passing of a very old friend at a ripe old age permits me to tell a court story that you may find a little amusing. This friend's name was not Jim, and so to conceal his identity I shall call him that.

One morning far back over the years Jim came to my home court with a badly swollen jaw. He said he had been knocked down and out. It had happened in this way.

He had been at work in his own orchard when a man drove up, jumped from his car and challenged him to fight. Since the other man was far the biggest Jim had declined without thanks. Whereupon the other man had swung right and left on Jim's jaw with results as described.

When Jim recovered consciousness the man had gone. Jim thought the incident justified a warrant of arrest for battery. I thought his idea not unreasonable and so I let him sign a complaint.

After Jim had left to see a doctor I began to have a feeling that something about this incident called for caution on my part. In letting Jim sign a complaint without asking him more questions I might have made a serious mistake. I decided not to issue a warrant until I had talked with Jim again.

Jim Calls Again

Two days later he called to see what had been done about the warrant and I got from him this story:

A day or so prior to the day he was knocked down by the man against whom he had filed the complaint, Jim said he had been driving along a narrow county road when he saw this man with tractor and disk plowing an orchard. When the man turned at the end of the rows he carelessly ran his outfit up on the roadbed and cut into the pavement.

Jim, a public-spirited person, had stopped to protest. A hot argument ensued. Jim concluded, "That man put his face close to mine and bellowed at me. So I just spit in his face and drove on."

The next day the man called on Jim. RESULT: Jim's swollen jaw.

In court experience this was a totally new one on me. I was torn between amusement and horror. For a few minutes I had nothing to say and said it: that is, said nothing. Figuratively I was knocked down and out myself.

Of course I could let this case go on and let Jim take the natural consequences of his own act, whatever it might be. But I had been saved from the natural consequences of foolish acts in my own life, and I wanted to pass the favor along.

Presently I said, "Jim, this man will probably insist on a jury trial. It won't be held here in my house but in a large hall. Since jury trials are rare in this community this trial will be likely to draw a large audience. In his effort to influence the jury a clever defense attorney won't make you look too good."

I left these ideas to soak in a minute and then added, "Chances are the attorney from the district attorney's office who will represent you won't be very enthusiastic about it."

D.A. On Other Side

Jim left looking very thoughtful. After Jim had gone I called up the district attorney's office and told the story. The voice at the other phone instantly said, "This office is on the side of the knocker down."

When Jim returned in a couple of days he had with him a prominent friend. This man said, "I hear that this other fellow claims Jim spit in his face. Well, I know that Jim isn't that kind of man. I'll swear in court that Jim isn't that kind of man anytime."

I looked at Jim and Jim looked away.

Jim didn't come again for perhaps a week. When he did come he looked at me very soberly and said, "I'll bet you think I've been very foolish."

I saw that Jim had been knocked down a second time, and I was prepared for this. So I looked at him very soberly and said, "I'll bet you can't guess how many times over the years I've been foolish myself." And I confessed to him a thing or two—not the worst!

As I expected him to do he asked me to drop the case. When he rose to go he held out his hand and said, "For a judge, you are a very human person."

Jim lived to a ripe old age without getting into serious trouble again. But to the end he remained, like me, a very human person.

ENDS CAMPAIGN

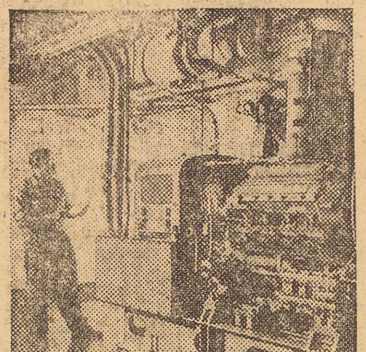
City of Hope will conclude its current fund-raising campaign with a public banquet nex Tuesday, May 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the Hawaiian Gardens.

WHAT'S DOING

T. K. Nordheim, your Telephone Manager in Campbell

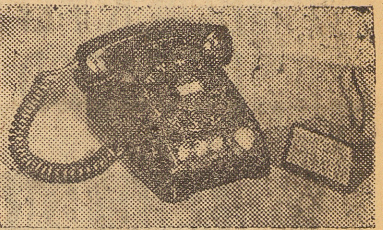
Guarding the safety of you and your family is a big part of any telephone man's job. That's why we each take a course in "defensive driving." It teaches us ways to avoid accidents—to anticipate what other drivers or pedestrians may do. It really works too. Our drivers cover millions of miles every year and chalk up one of the best safety records in the U.S. It pays off for us and our families, and for you too, for it helps make driving safer for everyone.

* * * * *



A reserve of power guards your phone service—day in and day out. Happily, storms and other emergencies don't come along often. But we keep ready anyway. Special standby generators run by gasoline or diesel engines have been provided in each telephone central office. If needed, they can take over to supply necessary power. This is one of the many ways we work to provide telephone service you can count on.

* * * * *



Hands Free Telephone. Now the whole family can join in on local calls, or family reunions on long distance calls. The homemaker can cook, sew, knit, or do other work while talking over the phone. A built in microphone picks up your voice and the voice of the person you are talking to comes over a small loudspeaker. You can talk and work more easily without having to hold a receiver. Call CY 2-9000 and ask for your representative who will gladly furnish you additional information. PACIFIC TELEPHONE.

Women

THIS IS THE ONE THAT STARTED IT ALL . . . Mrs. E. L. Barton points to the granddaddy of her elephant collection which she began a few years ago after purchasing him to round out decor in her living room. To keep him company she bought several more and then became so intrigued with elephants in general that she now has 338. To keep pace with her growing hobby, Mr. Barton has built cases for most of them, but many other are found throughout the house serving useful as well as decorative purposes. - Campbell Press Photo

Campbell Woman Finds Elephant Collecting an Absorbing Hobby

By Vivian Faulkner

It's an amazing sight, those 338 elephants belonging to Mrs. E. L. Barton of 60 Gilman Ave. She has them lined up in glass enclosed cases, standing on sideboards, hanging on walls, and setting on tables. In fact, they can be found in every room in the house. And, there are pink elephants, but they're not imaginary. It's an absorbing hobby, she says.

Standing forlornly in the center of the collection is one, small, grey plush donkey, a gift from Mr. Barton who believes there should be at least one symbol of the Democratic party to round out this stronghold of pachyderms.

It all began several years ago, Mrs. Barton says, when she spied a large grey elephant in a shop window and bought it. She placed it on the floor by her fireplace and became so intrigued with it because "he looked so cute" that she decided to get another one or two to keep him company. From then on, like Topsey, the herd "just grew."

Now there are big ones and miniature ones, funny ones and sad ones, and just plain elephants in assorted colors and even polka-dots. Some are beautifully hand-carved of wood or ivory, most are ceramic, and a few are toys that perform tricks of some sort.

Not all the elephants are purely decorative. Among this extensive collection are lamps, ash trays, banks, soap dishes, teapots, and condiment sets. She also has elephants on napkins, scarfs, and galloping all over a pair of men's shorts which she refuses to let her husband wear.

One of her prize possessions is an oriental teapot given to her by Mrs. Maud Weston whose father was the first white boy born in San Francisco and the original owner.

Mrs. Barton said she is constantly adding to her hobby and because friends and relatives send her elephant souvenirs whenever they travel so there is no telling how big her collection will be in another few years. She now has specimens from almost every state in the union as well as India, Mexico and Israel.

Brownie Troop Hosts Mothers At Annual Tea

In a garden setting, eighteen third grade Brownies of Troop 458, Dover School, were hostesses to their mothers at their annual "Mothers Day Tea" Saturday afternoon, May 11. The affair was held at the Patio Drive home of their leader, Mrs. James Brassill.

As each mother arrived, she was greeted by her daughter and presented with an orchid then escorted through a row of flower-entwined arches to her table.

Brownies entertained with a program of songs and square dances. Nancy Murphy and Linda Gutto played accordion solos of "Home Sweet Home" and "Lady of Spain"; and Linda Perrino sang "Cry of the Wild Goose".

At the close of the program, each Brownie presented her honored guest with a handmade pearl and sequin covered pincushion. Friendship pins were awarded troop members for sending clothing to Hungarian refugees, and World pins were awarded to members earning them.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Brassill and co-leader, Mrs. R. G. Murphy, the girls did the planning and decorating including pastel paper carnations for the arches, and made refreshments. Mrs. Jacqueline Patzke made the orchid corsages for mothers.

Brownie hostesses were Sheri Brassill, JoAnn DeLuca, Kit DuBois, Cindy Edwards, Katherine Ellis, Linda Gutto, Laura Johns, Rosanne Lombardo, Beverly Meeks, Kathy Meyling, Nancy Murphy, Gayla Perrino, Linda Perrino, Sandra Patzke, Cheryl Shelley, Lynn Spitzley, Lorrinda Williams, and Carol Yoggi.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. You can plant a rose garden in full bloom! Many nurserymen offer a wide selection of roses growing in containers.

2. The Deciduous Clematis, which can be planted now, are refined and showy vines. Some flowers measure up to six inches across.

3. If you are to have Chrysanthemums in that fall garden, hurry to plant them.

4. The Petunia is one of the finest and most productive bedding plants. Try some of the new F No. 1 hybrids.

5. Do you want a weed free lawn? You can treat your soil before sowing with new chemicals which will free the area of all weeds, grass and weed seeds. A wait of several weeks is necessary before sowing the lawn seed.

Perennials For Planting

If a garden can be said to have a wardrobe, then it might follow that the trees and shrubs are its basic ensembles, while the perennials serve as accessories to give color and interest.

Perennials correctly planted can give a garden a distinct personality of its own. The perennial group is a large one; but there are several species that are particularly outstanding in California gardens.

Pelargoniums (or Geraniums) bloom in some of the brightest colors in the flower kingdom—pinks, fuchsia, orange, salmon, scarlet, vermillion, purple, bronze red. Some new name varieties include Li'l Abner, salmon coral blotched dark brown; Bonita, lavender veined dark maroon; and Corsair, semi-dwarf, vermillion.

Delphiniums bring horizontal flower beauty into a garden. Delphiniums are available in blues, lavender, pink, lilac, royal purple, raspberry and white, in the Pacific Giants, Bellamosum, Belladonna and Chinese types. All make fine cut flowers.

Baby's Breath (Gypsophila) offers delicate, miniature flowers that will fill in gracefully between the more obvious perennials. Baby's Breath grows as a branching flower to three feet blooming in white or pink and as a miniature trailer with white or pink flowers.

"Bluebells, cockle shells . . ." goes the child's song and Bluebells are another lovely summer perennial. The Bluebells or Bellflowers (Campanulas) are low-growing starry flowers in white, pink and blue. They make wonderful subjects for window boxes, pots and hanging baskets.

Try "dressing up" your garden with other perennial favorites too, such as the blue or white flowers of the Agapanthus, the many shades of Asters, the whites and yellows of Marguerites, the orange-red Hot Poker (Tritoma).

Perennials will need regular watering and some feeding, according to the species you plant, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Most perennials will benefit by some pinching and pruning, again depending on the species. Protect young plants from birds with wiring laid over the plants; place bait for slugs and snails.

Godetia - Salpiglossis

Colorful flowers for your summer garden are assured when you plant the Salpiglossis Sinuata, more easily known as Painted Tongue, and the Godetia.

Painted-Tongue grows to two and a half feet; its flowers are petunia-shaped in rich shades of mahogany-red, orange-red, yellow, rose, purple and bi-colors, marbled and penciled with gold or contrasting colors. Painted-Tongue should be planted now in full sun and rich soil. Do not water too heavily; it will not do well in hot, dry climatets.

Plant Painted-Tongue in the garden bed with marigolds, baby's breath and the floss flower for a pleasing display, recommends the California Association of Nurserymen. Painted-Tongue will bloom through summer until frost appears and it is an excellent cut flower too.

The Godetia is a California native, blooming in spring and summer. It has really been glorified by hybridizing named varieties of the Godetia grandiflora species offer blooms in salmon-orange; salmon-pink, carmine and white. Satin Flower, as Godetia grandiflora is called, blooms in a single, satin-textured flower, rose-red, or doubles in rose and red shades. Godetia amoena, Farewell-To-Spring, bears double flowers up and down the one to two foot stems.

Plant the Godetia in sun in cool areas, shade in the hot valleys. Give the Godetia plenty of moisture but do not overfeed.

Ferns

Ferns are among the most adaptable garden plants if their needs are met, and they are highly decorative plants ranging in size from dwarfs to trees.

Ferns are flowerless plants thought to be descendants of some of the oldest types of plant life on this earth. They belong in several plant families. A deep, well aerated soil rich in humus, shade and ample moisture are the basic requirements of most ferns. There are some species, however, that are exceptions to these requirements and will tolerate some sun, wind and dryness, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Some of the tree ferns make fine tub subjects. This is true of the Australian and Tasmanian tree ferns. The Australian (Alsophila australis) grows to 18 feet, needs half shade and wind protection; The Tasmanian (Dicksonia antaractica) is the hardiest of tree ferns and grows to 10 feet.

The soft, feathery foliage usually associated with ferns is a characteristic of the American Maidenhair (Adian tum pedatum). The Staghorn fern, (Platycerium bifurcatum), however, does not look like a fern; its fronds are either wavy-margined or forked like antlers and it needs vertical support to grow well.

House ferns are available too for the gardener who likes to do much of his gardening indoors.

Boy Scouts to Demonstrate Skills at Circus

Approximately 5000 cubs, scouts and explorers will take part in the 1957 Santa Clara County Circus May 24 and 25 at Spartan Stadium, S. Seventh and Humbolt Streets, San Jose, and demonstrate activities in the Boy Scout movement. The show will start at 8 p.m. both nights.

The events is under the joint sponsorship of the San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Clara County Council of Boy Scouts.

One of the features will be "Butch", a typical American boy, who will be taken on a "cook's tour" through the program to show houw much fun it is to be a member of a pack, troop or explorer unit.

In two acts, 60 cub packs will portray some of their summertime activities. Scouts from 14 troops will demonstrate signaling, and another 25 troops will demonstrate various scouting skills. Others will put on an act devoted to pioneering. Explorer units will present "Explorers in Action".

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from cubs, scouts and explorers throughout the county. Proceeds will go to the packs, troops and explorer units on the basis of tickets sold by each and will be used to help finance their own programs for the coming year.

General chairman of the circus is Ed Kolstad of San Jose. Tom Mansfield of Campbell is program director.

RETIRED FARMER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Prayer and funeral services were held Monday at San Jose Buddhist Temple for Mr. Sakujimo Nakasaki, 78, who passed away last Thursday after a long illness.

Mr. Nakasaki was a retired farmer and made his home at 911 W. Rincon Ave. He was a native of Japan.

He leaves his widow, Toyo; and eight children, Jim, Tom, and Mrs. Aiko Ouchida, all of San Jose, and Dorothy Nishita, Bob, George, Rumiko and Yoshida, all of Campbell.

The services were under the direction of Willow Glen Mortuary and interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

PROPERTY TAX BIGGEST

General property taxes continued to be the largest single source of income for California cities, increasing $16 million, 6.6 percent, during fiscal year 1955-56, according to State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood.
